Maryville's fourth Daily Vacation Bible School is now in full swing, with ninety boys and girls, from 4 to 14 years old enrolled. Five new scholars enrolled today, which is the second of this year's session. Fathers and mothers are invited to send their children. A good many generally enroll during the first week.

The school is divided into four departments. The oldest boys and girls form the Intermediate Department, Mrs. Leonard Bosch is the superintendent. "Modern Builders of the Church" is the text book. For craft or handwork the girls are going to make flower baskets for the various churches, and the boys will make hammocks and do scroll work. Dramatization of missionary and Bible stories is also planned. On Wednesdays this Department is in charge of the closing assembly period of the D. V. B. S.

Miss Margaret Louise Hosmer is at the head of the Junior Department, with Mrs. Glenn Hornbuckle as the other leader. "Into All the World" is the text. This course takes the children on a trip around the world, studying the home and foreign mission fields. Each week's work closes with an "Animated Scene" presenting the life in the country visited. On Fridays this department give one of these "Animated Scenes" at the closing assembly. The girls will see to making the costumes for the scenes, and for the pageant which will end the course and be given at the closing exhibition of the D. V. B. S.. The boys will have special craft work.

The Primary Department is in charge of Mrs. L. E. White, Misses Gertrude Garrett and Dorothy White are the helpers. There are three courses of study one for each of the three grades in the department. The first course is "Stepping Stones in Life." The second year is "The Bible and the Child," and the third year is 'Happy Childhood Days." The older boys and the girls work out Bible and missionary stories on the sand table.

The pre-school children are in the Kindergarten Department. The texts for them are "Getting Acquainted with the Heavenly Father' and "Gifts from the Heavenly Father." Mrs. Fred Waggoner is the head of this department. Miss Mildred Wray is the assistant, and the pianist.

The daily program begins with the school marching to music, at 8:55 o'clock. The worship period, singing and memory work, then last until 9:35. For ten minutes marching and calesthenics are given the upper two departments, and the younger departments play games. After this relaxation forty minutes are spent in ten separate groups in Bible study.

Fifty minutes are spent in the craft work. Mrs. Sam McClurg is the instructor of reed work. The regular teachers handle the girls and younger boys' work. The older boys are instructed in coping saw work and hammock making by Mr. Cline, Mr. Allison and Harold Braun.

The morning session closes with an assembly of all the school. Each day one of the departments is in charge and on the other day lantern slides will be shown. This week and the next the school will visit India by this means.

Miss Gertrude Garrett is the secretary of the school, Miss Hazel Sheridan, treasurer, Rev. B. F. Cline, assistant superintendent, and Rev. S. P. Allison, superintendent.

When Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of School, who is here for the College commencement and the meeting of the Board of Regents, heard that Maryville was conducting a Daily Vacation Bible School, he complimented the town on being so up to the minute in religious instruction. He spoke of how much benefit his daughter received from a D. V. B. S. when he lived in Butler.

PORTION OF ROAD CLOSED TO TRAFFIC

NINE-MILE DETOUR IS MARKED BY COMMISSION

COMPLETE ROUTE SOON

Will Be Maintained by J. E. James, County Superintendent of Maintenance

The south portion of the ten-mile road project now under construction has been closed to all traffic, E. Warren Gotwals, state project engineer in charge of the work, announced this morning.

A temporary detour route, about nine miles long, has been marked and will be used by the traffic to and from St. Joseph. This detour route begins south of Barnard and joins route twenty-seven at the Arkoe road.

Grading and culvert work is now being done on only the south portion of the project and the north part of the state road has not yet been closed.

Marking of the detour route is nearly complete and the new road will be maintained by the state highway department under the supervision of J. E. James and will be kept up in good condition. The route will be inspected every week by Mr. Gotwals and all the detour signs will be kept in place.

There are two railroad crossings on the detour road. One is at Barnard and the other at Bridgewater, and the latter is a dangerous crossing. Mr. Gotwals pointed out. However, the Burlington Railroad is co-operating in protecting the traffic. All trains are stopped at this crossing, and a flagman aids in signaling the train across.

The final detour will be routed out in about two weeks, Mr. Gotwals said. Some culverts are now being constructed on what will be the premanent route and just as soon as these are finished, all of the state road project will be closed to traffic and the detour road from Maryville to south of Barnard will be marked and maintained by the state highway department.

At the beginning of the detour road, a sign has been placed by the state highway department. This sign reads: "This detour is marked and maintained for your convenience and safety by the Missouri State Highway Commission. Please use it."

The detour route which is now open and which replaces the south portion of the state road project is as follows:

Route 27 is open for six miles south to the Arkoe road. Then go east one and a half miles and follow the detour markers south to Barnard via Bridgewater, then west a half mile to the junction of the detour and the present Route 27. Then south on Route 27.

"DEMOCRACY IS A WORLD IN MAKING"

—JAY WILLIAM HUDSON

NOTED TEACHER-WRITER SPEAKS TO COLLEGE GRADUATES.

IS NOT GOVERNMENT

"It Is the Theory of What Human Beings are and What They May Become."

"Democracy is a world in the making," said Dr. Jay William Hudson, professor of philosophy at the University of Missouri in his address at the annual commencement exercises at the State Teachers College this morning. "I think that democracy is the new and momentous theory of what human beings are and what they may become."

Dr. Hudson had previously given his subject as "The American Ideal." In his address this morning he said that he was going to speak on a secondary subject to the main topic and that his address would be on "What Is America?"

"I wonder what people mean by 100 per cent American," he asked. "We hear of so many people and organizations boasting of 100 per cent Americanism but do they really know just what they mean. In my study of America I have collected a library of 500 books on America. In each of these I find that the word democracy is the factor of Americanism.

"Let me say that democracy is not government. It is not politics or economics. Neither is it art, sculpture, education, religion or morals. Nothing is more necessary to know than just what America really is.

"We are a nation of idealists without an ideal. We want something mighty hard but we don't know what it is. But these 500 books that I have in my library, all on America, mean something. And it is this. Whenever you find a nation that writes and talks about itself, that nation knows or is beginning to know where it is going.

"There is a peculiar thing about America. I am not foolish enough to say that any person may say 'I can be and do anything I want to' but I do say that nobody has a right to say to me or to any American, 'Thus far you can go and no farther.'"

In speaking of education Dr. Hudson said, "The business of education is not to adjust yourself to your environment but to adjust yourself and your environment to that which is your ideal of what the old world ought to be."

Following the address by Dr. Hudson, Luther A. Richman, of the Conservatory of Music sang a vocal solo, after which the class was presented by Dean G. H. Colbert to President Uel W. Lamkin of the College, who conferred the degrees and certificates.

At the beginning of the program the faculty of the College and the graduating class marched from the Residence Hall to the College auditorium.

The program was opened by an invocation by the Rev. S. P. Allison, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Following this came a violin solo by William S. Larson, of the conservatory of music, which was followed by the address.

St. Joseph Parties Held for Car Theft

Louise King, 19 Years Old, Confesses That She and George Rich Stole Orcutt Automobile.

According to word received this morning from the police at St. Joseph, George Rich, 19 years old, and Louise King, also 19 years old, stole the car of Frank E. Orcutt in this city on the night of May 24. Both parties are being held in St. Joseph on other charges and it is not likely they will be brought to Maryville pending these charges.

The police picked up Louise King in St. Joseph last Friday as she and Rich were driving a car that was stolen in that city Thursday night. Rich escaped at that time but the girl confessed and also said she and the boy stole the Orcutt car at Maryville.

Rich is out on bond on a charge of stealing about $1,200 worth of tires and accessories from the Western Auto Sales Company of St. Joseph on February 15. There are also other charges against Rich.

The same night the Orcutt car was taken from the garage, the parties entered the garage of A. C. Nicholas on East Third street, taking a coat which was in the Nicholas car. It is presumed these parties not wanting the Nicholas car then went to the Orcutt garage.

MILLIONS BENEFIT FROM TAX SLASH

25 PER CENT CUT EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY

WILL BE MADE ISSUE

President Coolidge to Take Proposal Before People in Coming Election and Session of Congress

Washington, June 3.—The tax burden of millions of Americans was lower today than it was twenty-four hours ago as the result of the signing of the tax reduction bill by President Coolidge, but the great tax fight of 1924 is not ended.

Into the Presidential campaign and finally into the second session of the Sixty-eighth Congress, convening in December, the President has determined to carry his demand for elimination from the new revenue law of the "unsatisfactory provisions" which he was compelled to accept in order to effect any kind of immediate tax reduction.

The reduction in federal revenue, under the new law, most of which goes into effect July 1, is estimated at 360 million dollars, but treasury officials do not anticipate that a deficit will result.

The immediate effect of the law will be a 25 per cent reduction in all income taxes payable this year.

Additional instructions for the 25 per cent income tax reduction under the new tax bill were issued by the treasury department today. They provide that at least half of the income tax due this year must be paid on or before June 15. Regulations providing for the administration of the new tax law were being drafted by the treasury department today and will be issued shortly.

Miss Painter to Talk on Three Coming Plays

Will Lecture Thursday Morning — "Ghosts," Presented Friday, a Story of Domestic Conventions.

Miss Anna M. Painter of the English department of the State Teachers College, will lecture on the plays which are to be given at the College Thursday night, Friday afternoon, and Friday night by the Clifford Devereux Players at 8:25 o'clock Thursday morning. This lecture will be to her English classes but anyone is invited.

"Ghosts," a drama of present day domestic conventions, will be presented at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the State Teachers College auditorium by the Devereux Company. This play said by many to be one of Ibsen's best, deals with a woman who, because of conventions, was forced to shield a degenerate husband and give up her son to shield him from his father's reputation.

The play points out that the conventions of life stalk around after life in the form of "Ghosts," not only in the person of those who are in the wrong but also of would-be worthy members of society.

BROOKHART LEADS SWEET BY 12,000

LATE RETURNS INCREASE LEAD OF IOWA SENATOR

CONTEST VERY CLOSE

Dan Steck is Leading Charles Keyes in Democratic Senatorial Primary Held Yesterday

Des Moines, Ia., June 3—Senator Smith W. Brookhart forged ahead in the close race for the Republican Senatorial nomination this afternoon when late returns gave him a 12,000 lead over Burton E. Sweet, former Congressman.

Dan Steck is leading Charles Keyes in the Democratic Senatorial contest.

Des Moines, Ia., June 3.—With incomplete returns on hand from about one-half of the 2,412 precincts in the state, and reports drifting in slowly from the rural districts today, the Senatorial and Gubernatorial candidates in yesterday's state-wide primary election were so closely bunched that it was practically impossible to pick the winner.

In the race for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, Smith W. Brookhart, Republican-progressive-insurgent, was leading Burton E. Sweet, former Congressman by a slight margin of 3,000 that might be wiped out with later returns from the outlying districts.

In the governorship contest, not one of the six candidates seemed likely to get the 35 per cent of the total vote cast necessary to nominate. John Hammill and W. J. Burbank were running neck and neck with Hammill holding a slight lead.

Glen C. Haynes and J. H. Anderson were close behind.

A FARM ASSET.

The value of windbreaks to farm crops is set forth in a bulletin just issued by the department of agriculture. According to this bulletin the value of the windbreak is two-fold. It serves to protect farm crops and it is also a source of timber the value of which is considerable.

Before placing its stamp of approval on the windbreak the department of commerce conducted exhaustive tests to determine whether the value of the windbreak was greater or less than the care which it entailed and the amount of moisture and nourishment which it demanded of the soil. The tests revealed that the benefits of the windbreak far outweighed its less desirable features.

In a day of growing timber shortage the nation should look with interest on this evident effort of the department of agriculture to encourage interest in the timber resources of the country. It is a worthy step that should be given hearty support by the public.

YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS IN MAJORITY.

Statistics compiled by the police department of a major American city indicate that the so-called crime wave is mostly the product of youthful hands, hands between the ages of 18 and 22.

Judges and magistrates are united in that one of the underlying causes of the high ratio of crime lies in the lack of home training, proper environment in the formative years of a boy's life. Yet today there are more agencies actively at work in the interests of these youth's morals than ever before, the while the crime rate mounts.

The answer is quite as perplexing to authorities as it is to laymen and those engaged in improving the moral tone of the nation's young. Are homes coming to be so dependent upon outside influences to guide boys right that they are neglecting their share of the duty? It might seem that this is at least a contributing cause.

THE "RACE FOR THE RAY."

The race for possession of the so-called "diabolical ray" is assuming international, and somewhat humorous, proportions. H. Grindell Matthews, the inventor of the ray which is claimed to bring down airships, stop motorcycles and sink fleets, is being beset by France and Britain and, it is reported, the United States.

Despite the skepticism evinced in most scientific quarters with regard to the efficacy of the ray in war, the inventor is quite convinced that he holds the secret for which nations will pay a fabulous price. He may be right. It can be hoped that he is, for the more terrible war becomes the sooner will nations learn the folly of armed struggle and unite in a sincere move to end it for all time. And the world seems quite well satisfied with the way war is at present conducted.

McAdoo's Manager Issues Forecast

Claims 232 Votes on First Ballot From the South—Eventually the Solid South.

New York, June 3.—David Ladd Rockwell, national campaign manager for William G. McAdoo, sent the following statement from Chicago Saturday, which was given out at the McAdoo headquarters here:

"The Democratic south can be relied upon to give William G. McAdoo not fewer that 232 votes on the first ballot. Eventually it is assured that the south will throw its undivided strength and enthusiastic support to the Californian.

"Adoption of the unit rule by the Mississippi state convention on Friday means that Mississippi's twenty votes will be cast for McAdoo. Florida and Louisiana, which are yet to act will send McAdoo delegations to New York. Eighteen of the twenty delegates elected in Mississippi are dyed-in-the-wool McAdoo men, and with the unit rule the other two will be drawn into line.

"In the south McAdoo has swept eight states: Georgia, 28; Kentucky, 26; Tennessee, 24; North Carolina, 24; Oklahoma, 20; South Carolina, 18; Texas, 40; Mississippi, 20. These two hundred votes will be increased by Florida's twelve and Louisiana's twenty, so that McAdoo after the first ballot will have 232.

"Virginia's twenty-four votes will come to McAdoo after a complimentary ballot for Senator Glass, and Arkansas' eighteen votes will be cast for McAdoo after Senator Robinson has been complimented.

"We have no first-hand information as to the disposition of Alabama's twenty-four votes after Senator Underwood's name is withdrawn, but we are confident that the senator cannot control over half the delegation, and that at least twelve of the delegates will come to McAdoo. In the end, I am confident that McAdoo will receive 298 votes from the solid south."

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Gentlemen:
Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple.
Yours truly,
Arlington H. Carman,
Patchogue, N. Y.

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all.

Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary brans. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipes on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek. Sold by all grocers.

Are You Happy?

Happiness and contentment are necessary to good health, and they are the most wanted things in the world.

Sometimes happiness is next to impossible because of surroundings in the home. Old and ugly and worn, out-of-style furniture has its effect on everybody. We do not like to look at it---we dislike to have friends call because of it.

As you read this take a look around. What is there in YOUR home in the way of furnishings that is unwelcome? Then remember that you can trade in such used pieces as part payment on NEW furniture and rugs.

Our Exchange Department Plan has done more to brighten up homes in Maryville and hereabouts than most folks have any idea of. Phone 126 and we will tell you just how it operates.

"ROMANTICS" AN EXCELLENT PLAY

MUCH CREDIT FOR SUCCESS TO MISS BLANCHE DOW

LEADING LADY STARS

Stage Settings a Feature of Production —Class Gift and Cane Were Presented

"Romantics," senior play at the State Teachers College, given last night by members of the class of 1924, indeed proved to be something worthwhile and different. Serving not only as the final effort of the graduating class, but also as an incentive toward a higher type of dramatics, it proved entirely adequate.

Probably most of the credit of the production goes to Miss Blanche Dow, director, who, for the past four years has been in charge of State Teachers College productions. The play marks the culmination of local dramatics for Miss Dow, who is leaving the College in the fall, and it was a fit final. Too much cannot be said in her favor.

Of the cast Miss Nelle Williams was the outstanding player. In the role of Sylvette she captured her audience with her quaintly realistic portrayal of the part and credit cannot be denied her. Perfectly at ease all of the time she went deeper into the part than the mere reading of lines and her pantomine and interpretation were perfect.

Laboring under the difficulty which always arises when a woman plays a man's part, Miss Florence McDonald was satisfactory in the part of Percinet. She handled her lines well and her part showed study and training.

It is unfortunate that the part of Straforel played by Paul Chappell, was not larger. He could have handled a heavier part with ease for he was most convincing.

As Bergamin and Pasquinot, the two fathers, Richard Runyan and Clelle LeHew were good. The manner in which they played was a potent factor in the play's success.

The other students, playing minor parts in the play, handled them well. The dance given in the second act by Misses Mary West, Augusta Quell, and Mary Bailey and Richard Kirby, Russell Hamilton, and John England was quite pleasing and added color to the play.

"Romantics" was well staged. The Teachers College stage was disguised by sets that spoke of labor and which were indeed ideal.

The production, in three acts, adapted in verse from the French of Edmond Rostand, played to a full house.

Preceding the play the class cane and gift were presented by Miss Mable Cobb, president. The cane was accepted by Merle Selecman, president of the Junior class, and the gift, a replica of the famous statue of Lincoln seated in a chair surrounded by little children, by President Uel W. Lamkin on the part of the College.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Turner of Wilcox spent the week end in Princeton with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman.

Misses Mayme and Anna Dooley of St. Joseph will spend June and July in Maryville, their former home. The former is attending the summer term of the State Teachers College.

W. L. Perdew left yesterday noon for Indianapolis, Ind., with the car of his son, T. S. Perdew, who went to Syracuse, N. Y., four weeks ago to engage in electrical work. He will be met in Indianapolis by William Burks who will drive the car from there to Syracuse.

Miss Geraldine Robison spent Sunday at her home in Kansas City.

Harold Beck of Guilford spent yesterday in Maryville.

Plans to Establish Colony for Artists

Sister of Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode Will Make Resort Near Branson in Ozark Country.

Mrs. Caroline Ballentine of Kansas City, sister of Mrs. W. A. Rickenbrode of Maryville, is planning to establish an art colony on several acres of ground which she recently purchased in the Ozarks near Branson, Mo. The following article from the Branson White River Leader will be of interest to Mrs. Ballentine's friends in Maryville, made during her frequent visits to the Rickenbrode home:

The property along the bluff at the north side of town overlooking Roark creek and the road to Springfield has been purchased by Mrs. Caroline H. Ballentine of Kansas City, who has moved to Branson and has started building on her property.

The plot, which is 900 feet long by 285 feet wide, will be her home and after improvement will also be used as the nucleus for a colony of artists and authors who, Mrs. Ballentine thinks, will be delighted with the beautiful scenery within sight and settle there. She plans that in the future such a colony will grow by degrees and will so restrict the lots she will later dispose of that none but the higest class of people will be allowed to dwell there. Branson has long needed such a colony, who by their work will cary tales of the Lake Taneycomo district to all the world in story and on canvas.

Hens Need Ground Feed During The Summer, Say Specialists

Poultry specialists of the Missouri College of Agriculture advise feeding hens throughout the summer. They say that the production of the flock which is not properly fed will fall off early in the summer and can not be regained even if proper methods of feeding are instituted later. And when the time comes in late summer or fall to cull the flock, they cannot be efficiently culled unless the flock has been properly fed. Poultry keepers, therefore, who expect to cull their flocks this fall are requested by R. A. Kinnaird, county agent, to observe the suggestions of the poultry specialists in their state wide summer feeding campaign.

This campaign has for its object the increase of egg production during the warm weather months.

This increase in production, and a corresponding increase in profits, is brought about by observing proper feeding methods. Over 50 per cent of the year's egg production takes place during the months of March, April, May and June. The hen produces eggs during these spring months because she has inherited from the wild jungle folw the intinct to lay eggs for hatching at this season, also because nature gives her a generous supply of bugs and worms. These spring conditions can be supplied by the flock owner by furnishing the equivalent of bugs and worms in the form of meat scraps and tankage.

Experiments at the Missouri College of Agriculture have proven beyond a doubt that the most profit can be derived from feeding a properly balanced feed. One experiment covering ten years' work showed that a hen in one year fed fifty-five pounds of grain and eighteen pounds of mash containing only bran, shorts and cornmeal laid sixty-one eggs; while the same ration with six pounds of tankage added gave a production of 119 eggs per hen. Animal protein supplied by meat scraps or sour milk gave practically the same results.

In feeding birds a mash containing animal protein you are only imitating the spring conditions of nature. The farm flock owner who expects to have his birds return a profit must not only supply the birds with egg producing food, but he must put it before them in an appetizing manner. A simple laying mash can be made by mixing 200 pounds bran, 200 pounds shorts, and 100 pounds tankage or meat scraps. If three gallons of milk for each hundred hens is available, the tankage may be omitted. In the summer time this dry mash should not only be kept before the hens in a hopper, but a small amount should be moistened with milk or water until it is in a crumbly condition. This wet mash should be fed once each day, care being taken not to mix more mash than the birds can consume in half an hour. Wet mash spoils easily in warm weather and this ferment causes digestive troubles. Many successful poultrymen reduce the amount of grain fed during the warm months. This gives the hens more appetite for mash.

The farm flock owner frequently asks the question, "does it pay me to feed the flock a laying mash during July and August when eggs are so cheap in price and feed is so high?" E. J. Rodekohr, Lafayette County, last year secured a production of 18.7 eggs per hen in July and 19.5 eggs per hen in August. The profit above the feed cost from the sale of eggs for the two months was $120. In an adjacent county lived a flock owner who decided that eggs were so cheap that he could not afford to feed laying mash. This flock was fed a little grain each day and laid only 7.8 eggs per hen in July and 3 eggs in August. This flock lost $12.61 during that period. Realizing the mistake this flock was then fed a good ration. But it is very hard to bring back to profitable production the flock that has been misfed; just as it is hard to bring a cow that is nearly dry back to her milk flow. These hens produced but ten eggs per bird during the following two months, while each hen in the flock of Mr. Rodekohr produced 17.8 eggs per hen in September and 15.5 eggs in October.

"It pays to feed the hen every day in the year," says H. L. Shrader, poultry extension specialist from the College of Agriculture, "not only for the production that month but for the following months."

The Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Anness and Mrs. Hoyt Craig of Ravenwood were Maryville visitors yesterday.

CATTLE AND SHEEP UNEVEN—HOGS HIGHER

Kansas City Stock Yards, June 2—The downward tendency in the cattle market, which was in evidence last week, was checked today when receipts were moderate. Prices for fed classes were quoted steady to strong and grass fat steers were higher again today. Receipts were the smallest of any Monday this year, and about 50 per cent short of a normal Monday supply. Sheep were higher and lambs lower.

Today's Receipts

Receipts today were 14,000 cattle, 5,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep, compared with 18,000 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep a week ago, and 13,350 cattle, 19,025 hogs, and 8,950 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle

Cattle that showed dry feed were in light supply and they sold readily at strong to slightly higher prices. Nothing choice was offered and the top of the good steers sold up to $10.25. Grass fat steers were offered freely and they sold slowly at 10 to 15 cents lower prices. The shortage of fed cattle and the liberal supply of grass cattle marks the changing season. Plain to fairly good cows were slightly lower. The best classes were stronger. Fed yearlings and mixed yearlings were slightly higher. Veal calves were steady.

Stockers and Feeders

Stockers and feeders were in about normal supply and prices were the same as last week. Inquiry was largely for the better class of stockers and aged steers for summer grazing. Fleshy feeders sold slowly.

Hogs

Hogs were 5 to 10 cents higher than last week's close and 10 to 15 cents higher than the low point last week. Receipts were the smallest of any Monday this year, the light run being attributed to the rush of farm work. The top price was $7.15 and bulk of sales $6.90 to $7.10. Packing sows sold at $6.40 to $6.50, and stock hogs and pigs at $5.25 to $6.

Sheep and Lambs

Lambs were 15 to 25 cents lower, and sheep were strong to 25 cents higher. Grass sheep have been relatively too low for lambs. About 3,000 of the days arrivals, were on direct billing to packers. Spring lambs sold mostly at $15.25 to $16; shorn lambs $13.25 to $13.70, and shorn ewes $5.50 to $6.50. Most of the Texas wethers brought $7.25 to $7.50.

Horses and Mules

The light receipts of horses and mules sold readily at steady prices.

OPERATION ADVISED FRIEND SAID "DON'T DO IT!"

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First. Proved Good Advice

Chicago, Illinois.—"Just a few lines to let you know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was married going on for three years, and went to a doctor and was taking treatments twice a week for pains every month. I used to lie in bed three or four days with them and the doctor would call and inject something into my arm to put me asleep so I would not feel the pains. At last she said I would have to be operated on if I wanted any children. Well, I just happened to go to see a friend with her first baby and I told her I was going to the hospital, and she said, 'Don't do it! You go and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you won't need any operation.' So my husband got me a bottle right away. Now I have two lovely children. Believe me, I recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman I know has any kind of female trouble. It has helped me and a lot of my friends."—"Mrs. A. McANDLESS, 1709 S. Morgan St., Chicago, Ill. TO DISCUSS MANY SUBJECTS AT MEET

HELD IN LOS ANGELES

"Thirteen Days Of Joy" Is How Gathering Has Been Designated—Many Excursions Planned.

Los Angeles, June 3.—"Thirteen Days of Joy" is how the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs has been designated.

The Philharmonic auditorium where sessions are to be held, is of especial interest to the General Federation, having been built by Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, chairman of programme, a Pasadena woman and director in the Federation for the State of California, for her illustrious husband, the late "Bob" Burdette, pal of Mark Twain and a noted minister.

California and Los Angeles notables in government, social and professional life will join the California Federation in extending welcome tonight, when a veritable battle of flowers will be waged.

Will Consider Many Things.

Two days will be devoted largely to routine and convention business, with a day each to the seven national departments; Press, legislation, fine arts, public welfare, American citizenship.

In addition, there will be a play day when excursions to all sections of Southern California have been arranged, hundreds of luncheons and teas will be held, and Hollywood Bowl will be opened for a great music festival and memorial programme.

The closing programme will be devoted to Foreign Relations, with speakers from seven countries other than this.

Throughout the entire programme there will run a series of concerts, emphasizing American music and its history and development. World-famous artists and musicians will take part under direction of Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, of Chicago, national music chairman in the General Federation, and founder of the now famous Music Memory Contests.

Exhibits of all kinds, having any bearing on home, community and country betterment will be held in connection with the biennial sessions, many of them to be demonstrated by government experts. The country's greatest art will be displayed.

Will Visit Burbank's Farm.

Two hundred committeewomen have been training daily for weeks to conduct bureaus of information for the thousands of visitors expected.

Following the convention, during which everything from the plans to promote permanent peace to how to make better pickles will come before the delegate body, five days of entertainment will be offered by the women of San Francisco. During this week Luther Burbank, plant wizard, will open his famous botanical gardens, Holly wood will show how movies are made, and excursions in all parts of California will be taken.

Many of the visitors will go from California to Honolulu and to Alaska.

Taken all in all, the convention promises to be the largest gathering of women held in this country since 20,000 clubwomen gathered in New York City in 1916.

Law enforcement, peace, and adequate army and naval protection are expected among the many things to be endorsed.

Has Sold 307 Broiler Chickens Since May 8

Mrs. J. P. Richardson, near Elmo, has sold 307 broiler chickens since May 8, she said this morning. When she first began selling them, the chickens were only nine weeks old and weighed from one and a half to two pounds. At that time, she sold 117 broilers and during the month of May sold 307. The chickens were fed mainly on mash in self feeders. Mrs. Richardson set three incubators on February 12 and since that time has had 2,084 baby chicks.

Four are Ordained at Conception College

Ten Students are Being Raised to Altar This Spring—are Ordained by Bishop Gilfillan

Conception College and its faculty are proud that ten of its students are being raised to the altar this spring. Four were ordained in the Abbey Church last Sunday by his lordship, Francis Gilfillan, Bishop of St. Joseph.

Despite the rain, the muddy roads and early hour, there was a large attendance at the ordination ceremonies. Many relatives and friends of the young men to be ordained had the privilege not only to see the beautiful ceremonies for the first time but also to see one of their own admitted to the altar.

At 7:20 the large door opening from the cloistered corridor into the Abbey Church swung on its hinges to admit students, Fathers and the Rt. Rev. Bishop in procession to the Monks' quoir and the high altar where the four young men were waiting. Assisted by Fathers Sylvester, Stephan and Clement the Bishop vested and proceeded with the ordination Mass.

The four new presbyters, all of Missouri, are the Rev. Leo Ruggle, nephew of the Rt. Rev. Abbot Philip; the Rev. Andrew Kunkle, O. S. B.; the Rev. Raymond Meyerpeter, O. S. B.; and the Rev. Timothy Eck, O. S. B.; the Rev. Andrew Kunkle succeeded four of his family to the work in the Holy Vineyard, the Rev. John, O. S. B., a member of the community at Conception and Sisters Ermalinda, Pancratia Teresa and Mechtilda, all members of the Precious Blood Convent at O'Fallon, Mo. The Rev. Leo Ruggle attended Conception College as a day scholar, walking back and forth some two miles every day, and completed his seminary work in Kenrick Seminary. The other three made their complete course within the walls of Conception College and Abbey of which they became fulfledged members in the fall of 1923, when they made their solemn profession. All four are to say their First Mass within the week after their ordination.
